This is your 1950 edition of "The Defiance." From the extended hand on the cover to the final page it has been designed to fulfill the purpose of a complete yearbook.

Our method of production has been changed from that used in previous years. Literary efforts have been reduced to a trickle but the lens of our camera has been widened to its fullest scope to draw into our book the greatest possible amount of life at Defiance High School.

Since hands play such an important part in the many activities which go to make up this high school, we feel that they are of sufficient importance to be stressed in our theme.

Prophecy . . .

I was just walking down the street, thinking of my dental appointment with Dr. Gerald Koerber, O.W.P. (open wide please) when suddenly, coming around the corner in a new Dee Brown Roadster was none other than Bebe "run quick or get hit" Arend. After much coaxing on her part and a lot of courage on mine, I finally did proceed to get in and ride around town with her. Well, we no sooner got started when a cop, namely Bill Thieroff, stopped us. "I'm sorry," he said in his deep masculine voice, "you'll have to stop. There's a parade coming down the street." So we stopped and got out to watch. While waiting for the parade we could see across the street from us the studio of Rita Hewitt, vocal instructor. Some of her ardent pupils are Betty Bauer, Joanne Gessner, Anna Bond, Bev Fitzenrider, and Mary Lero. And, oh look, there's Huberta Johnsonbaugh and her husband, Dick Smith, with little Dickie, Jr. Isn't he cute? Over there's Mary Maney, the ballet instructor for the Jo Doerfner Dancing School. I was talking to Mary the other day and she says her most promising pupil is Dick Squire. Dick always was light on his feet.

Well, here comes the band! Ah such sweet music as these Lee Ann Wilhelm Bassoon Blowers put forth! Ruth Harmon, Teney Schackow, Luetta Brandt, Nan Fauth, and Dorothy Trubey are all members of this swell band. Why, lookie there. There's Bernie Boff on the big bass drum. Gee, he looks funny up there! The music seems to be getting louder. Oh, I see why now. Here comes Bonnie Miller. Bonnie has just won a prize for being able to play the drum so loudly. Her prize--one day in jail for disturbing the peace--the peace in this case being Police Commissioner Charlie Barber who was awakened from his snooze by the noise. Bonnie seems to have enjoyed her stay there because she was able to catch up on some of her reading. Her latest collections are: How to Eat and Still Stay Slim by Sally Skees. Some of Miss Skees' efficient staff members are Marilyn Compo, Anna Daft, Marlene Goldenetz, Marilyn Bowers, and Barb Spangler. Another interesting book is Learn to Drive in Ten Easy Lessons by the Great Gerry Reid. Ruth Snyder has become known to the reading world through her book Things to do While in the Hospital. This is a follow-up of Gerry's book.

Now to get back to the parade. I wish that lady would remove her hat. I can't see around it much less over it. She's turning her head. Now maybe I can get her attention. Well, look who it is! Our old friend Nancy Parker. Nancy is the manager and head designer of the "We Top Them All" hat shop in New York. Her staff of designers includes: Roger Simonis, Mary Blue, Betty Gallup, Madonna Roddy, Paul Layman, and Bonnie Morris Just listen to all those ohs and ahs. Well, no wonder. Here is a float by the Tom Ryan Modeling School and look who's on it. The models! There's Carol McFarland, Miss America of 1960; Jennie Pohlmann, world renowned singing and dancing star; Pat Overly, a model for the Nancy Nischwitz Dress Shop which is located across from the Fur Shop, owned by Theresa Minck; Georgia Lindeman, Queen of the Housewives, and many, many more. The next float is the Ohio State Football Team, coached by Jerry Behringer. This team, consisting of Jim Bonfiglio, Otto Beindorf, George Bussing, Dick Harris, Harold Fry, Keith Hubbard, Jack Weisenberger, Gene Mattocks, John Mohr, Pat Weber, and Ronald Brown, has never lost a game this season. The manager of this fine club, Bob Wiseman, credits this to the fact that they have only played one game so far this season. I tried to get their autographs but just as I was ready to get them, the motorcycle cops, headed by John Stock, had to come along and push us all back to the sidewalk. It was about like being in the middle of a big jigsaw puzzle. And speaking of jigsaw puzzles, The Jigsaw Picture Puzzlers Inc., are doing a very prosperous business under the new leadership of Eleanor Fisher. Her puzzlers are: Pat Heilshorn, Chief draw-um; Lois Krutsch, Chief color-um; Jim Hall, Chief cut-up; August Schackow, Chief put-um-together; Jim Zehner, Chief-take-um-apart; Allan Schutt, Chief justice-of-the-pieces; Larry Ruch, Chief-put-um-in-box; Theresa Leonard, Chief-tape-um-box; Phil Shoup, Chief sell-um; and Mary Fronk, Chief do-um-what-others-forget. These puzzles are guaranteed to fit in any home.

The cheers and yells are so loud I can hardly think. If I could only squeeze through to the front row maybe I could see what's going on. Well, there's one way of doing it. Excuse me, pardon me, whoops, I'm sorry, pardon, pardon me. Well, I made it, minus a few pounds. Why, it's our hometown hero John Ryan, who has just completed a round-the-world flying trip in his own homemade airplane. It took him exactly two years to accomplish this marvelous feat. During his brief stop in Arizona, enroute to Paris, he was able to talk with Genny Schmitt, an old classmate. Genny operates a jewelry shop there, specializing in STERLING. While in Arizona he went to Sinking Fast to try some of those delicious "Ma Pickering" donuts. Barb and her slowly sinking partner, Janice Diehl, have really been kneading the dough from their "Donut Shoppe."

From there he traveled to Bromo Seltzer, and on to Death Valley, where Ralph Hazelswart and Bill Monti are doing nicely in the tombstone business. Next came Paris, home of the Bob Brown all-girl basketball team, which won the 1970 Olympics. Bob and his assistant coach Fred Butler, are very proud of the team members: Carolyn Hendricks, Emma Maag, Bonell Marihugh, Mary McClure, Joe Ann Wiseman, Mary Detray, Sue Ellsworth, and Bill Haase. How did he get in there? Oh yes, the water-boy. Whenever the team gets-in a tight fix, they send in their extra player, pretty neat number. And she is pretty, too. Some more winners in the Olympics that year include: Bill Neff, track; Pat Marckel, swimming; Doug Sproul, skiing; Jo Lewis, boxing, Raul Stock, wrestling; and Finley Vaughan, poker. John also saw the new Ritzie Nightclub, built by the Phil Baker Construction Company and owned by Alice Briggs. He was lucky to be there that night, because the "Orville Smith and his Smithonians" orchestra was making its first appearance there with Darlene Hire as soloist and John Weible, head noisemaker. So much for Paris. His next stop was England and then New York where he dined with Mayor Charles Minck and Governor Fred Marckel. Among the other distinguished guests present at this banquet were: Nora Lee Bayliss, Dave Marihugh, Annabelle Grimes, Cleon Hohenberger, and Peg Bolley.

After the banquet, which consisted of a special concoction dreamed up by Mary Jeanne Kern and Gale King, he proceeded to fly back to England where he enrolled in the Barb Schroeder School of Cooking. It so happened that Betty Steel, Edgar Hesselschwardt, Wayne Crosser, Janet Lantow, and Louis Sabo, had the same idea. They, too, had come from a banquet, this one being in honor of Sue Seyboldt who was elected "Cook of the Year." A close runner-up was Dick Diemer, with his unusual recipe for "Tressed" which is dessert, spelled backwards. Third prize went to Albert Frank and Lavon Florence for their uniquely assembled cake, and fourth prize to Clarabelle Hardesty for her cheese soufle. Other contestants were Janet Parker, Betty Mast, Kenneth Eitniear, and Pearl Hardy, who were unable to attend the judging after testing their own concoctions before entering them.

Oh, golly, while I was telling you all this I forgot to watch the parade! Can you imagine me, Lois Schira, forgetting to watch a parade and talking to you? Miracles still happen, I guess.

The pause that refreshes . . . Hey, don't stuff that ballot box! . . . Watch the birdie! . . . New flagpole is dedicated . . . Grandma, what big feet you have! . . . All dressed up and rarin' to go!

Annual Staff

Ever wonder what would happen if your secret diary were accidentally printed in the daily newspaper under another name? Well, Patty Blaine found out---the hard way.

It all began when she decided to type her novel and was in desperate need of a typewriter. Tod, her boyfriend was finally coaxed into "borrowing" the new portable from the principal's office at school. After they found that a detective had been hired to search for the stolen typewriter, they decided to return it. But, alas, someone sat on it before they had a chance to sneak it back. The only thing left to do was to sell Patty's novel to the newspaper for enough money to add to their own funds. Her bad luck was still not over, for her brother picked up her diary by mistake and delivered it. This created quite a turmoil in print, for Patty tells ALL! When she learns someone else is taking the blame, she relates the whole story and soon finds that despite her bad luck things turned out perfect for everyone.

Mrs. Bohlmann, the director, was assisted by Miss Myers, who supervised the costumes, and Mr. Clingaman, who directed construction of the set.

RESERVES

The Defiance Reserves in three games this fall lost to Van Wert 12 to 0, tied Wauseon 7 to 7, and dropped their final game to Lima South 44 to 7. Much valuable experience was gained, however, which should enable the boys to put Defiance back in the victory column in future years.

Varsity Football

The Defiance Bulldogs, under the new leadership of Coach Burney from Oklahoma, started the '49 season with a 6 to 6 tie with Montpelier. On September 23 the Bulldogs were beaten by a tough Van Wert team by the score 28 to 6. The Bulldogs then traveled to Napoleon, our age old rival, losing in a tough game 26 to 13. Bryan came here for the Homecoming Game and soundly beat the Bulldogs 34 to 14. Wauseon came to Central Field and took home a 13 to 7 victory. The Bulldogs next entertained the Fostoria Red Men, losing a well-fought game 13 to 0. On the annual Dad's Night the Bulldogs beat Liberty Center 13 to 0. The Bulldogs then traveled to Lima South, losing to one of the best teams in this section, 43 to 6. Columbus Bexley came to Central Field for the last game, and after a very close and well played game Defiance was beaten 19 to 14.

The Bulldogs elected Gene Mattocks and Harold Fry Co-captains for the 1949 season.

FIRST ROW: J. Beindorf, R. Hazelswartz, K. Hubbard, G. Reid, J. Behringer, G. Bussing, J. Bonfiglio, D. Marihugh.

Bullpups . . .

The Junior High Football Team with a record of four games won and one lost should capably fill the shoes of the boys who are leaving.

Mr. Hampshire coached the team to victories over Bryan (20-0), Wauseon (19-0), Montpelier (59-12), and Van Wert (41-6); losing only to Napoleon (13-6).

Wayne McCoy, honorary captain and signal caller, turned in a fine preformance in keeping the team well organized. Jim Bayliss stood out as a runner and hard tackler while Jim Allen was really rough on defense and a good blocking back. Jerry Cooper was an outstanding center as well as a good line backer and Bill Stambaugh, playing end, was a fine pass receiver. These boys should develop into a fine aggregation in a year or two.

The cheerleaders have done a grand job of leading the student body and promoting good sportsmanship at this year's football and basketball games. Sometimes games are won or lost according to the action of the crowd, so the cheerleaders must be able to control a large crowd of people. The sportsmanship of the cheerleaders themselves is important too, because schools are often judged by their representatives at the games. Without the leadership of these girls there would have been many more incidents of booing opposing teams, referees, and decisions.

Track

Track at D.H.S. continues to grow in popularity. In 1949 Dick Smith was tops in the league in the high hurdles. Ray Osborn leaves a brilliant record behind him which consists of the league record in the 100 yard dash and the school record in the 220 yard dash. Jim Wahl set a school record in the shot put and also took first place in the league meet. Wahl and Osborn usually placed in the discus throw although no records were made. Some of the outstanding boys this year were: Smith in the hurdles and broad jump; Bob Ankney in the 220 and 440; Junior Beindorf in the 440, 220, and 100; Bill Neff in the pole vault; and Jack Weisenberger, running the distance races with Bill McCoy and Allen Ryan. Several boys in the field events included Harold Fry, Jim Bonfiglio, and Gerald Reid in the shot put and discus. Smith, George Bussing, Gene Mattocks, and others rounded out the team by running relays.

Mr. Hoeffel replaced Mr. Shipe as track coach this year.

FIRST ROW: J. Behringer, B. Neff, A. Ryan, D. Smith, J. Wahl, Gloria Hammons Brinck, R. Osborn, J. Bridenbaugh, G. Bussing, J. Beindorf, J. Weisenberger.

Beauty

Homecoming

Pat Overly was this year's Homecoming Queen. Gene Mattocks, acting captain, crowned her in the ceremonies in the gymnasium. Mary Louise Romaine, Junior, and Sue Demyan, Sophomore, were the attendants escorted by Willard Froelich and Jack Hale.

The Queen and the attendants reigned over the evening's festivities.

May Day

The King and Queen of the May are honored each year in an appropriate ceremony in the auditorium.

King Paul Wrigley and Queen Margaret Hasch were attended by Mary Lee Weisenberger and James Wahl, Seniors; Sue Seyboldt and Bernard Boff, Juniors; Kathryn Froelich and Kenneth Morris, Sophomores; and Barbara Dickman and Jack Hale, Freshmen.

Walter Mast, president of the Hi-Y, and Yvonne Partee, president of the Boosters, crowned the king and queen.

A dance followed the ceremony.

Advertising is a form of education, and like education, the work is never finished. If you look carefully at the picture below, you will see that Defiance High School, in the upper left hand corner, is, in reality, a part of the business district. It should serve as a significant reminder that education and business work hand in hand.

Our advertisers, we feel, have displayed an interest in you and your school and have helped to make this book a reality. To put it quite simply--they supported our project; it is only right that we should support them.
